

Website and Third Party Services Privacy Policy 19th May 2018.

This website is SSL-protected. This means that any data transferred by this website is encrypted and authenticated and is therefore secure.

Information Collected By This Website

If you choose to contact me using the contact form, the information that will be collected from you is your name, email address, telephone number (if provided), and any message you choose to write. This will be used to contact you in response to your enquiry only. I will not share this data, nor will I use it for marketing purposes. Please be aware that my contact form is also SSL-protected, and therefore your data is encrypted, authenticated and secure. This data will be deleted once I have responded to your enquiry.

If you choose to become a client, I will then process and store further data about you: for more details, please see my client privacy policy.

Wix.com may collect data about you when you use this website. For further information about this, please see their privacy policy: <https://www.wix.com/about/privacy>

Cookies

This website is built using Wix.com. While the only personal data I collect through my website is via use of the contact form, as detailed above, Wix.com implements cookies in each site. These are detailed below.

This information is taken from <https://support.wix.com/en/article/cookies-and-your-wix-site>

Deleting Cookies

For more information about how to delete cookies from your computer/device, please visit <https://www.aboutcookies.org>

Third Party Cookies

This website contains links to other companies, such as "About Cookies.Org" links to my social media profiles, and other directories. These are provided to offer further information to enhance your knowledge, and also to give alternative sources of support so that you can make an informed decision regarding seeking help and guidance. When accessing these websites, you may be sent cookies by these organisations.

I have no access or control over cookies used by these companies or third-party websites, and am not responsible for their content. Please check their privacy and cookie policies for further information about their cookies and how to manage them.

iZettle Payments

I offer clients the opportunity to pay for their sessions with a credit or debit card. In order to do this, I use an iZettle card reader which connects to an app on my smartphone via Bluetooth in order to process the payment. iZettle is the data controller for all personal information processed during this payment, including if the client requests an email receipt.

The data processed by iZettle includes contact information (your email address if you request an email receipt), along with credit or debit card information such as card number, expiry date and CVV code, name, financial transactions or equivalent, details about products/services you have purchased. They process this information in order to be able to process the payment transaction and to carry out a secure transaction.

Some of this information is taken from iZettle's privacy policy. Please see their privacy policy for more information about the ways in which they process your data: <https://www.izettle.com/gb/privacy-policy>

Your Rights

Under the GDPR, you have the right to access your data. If you want a copy of the data stored about you by my website, please contact me and I can arrange this.

You also have the right to be forgotten. Whilst I will normally delete data stored by my website (assuming you contact me via the contact form) as soon as I have responded to your message, if you would like me to delete your data before this, then please contact me and I can arrange this.

You also have the right to data portability. If you request your data, I have a responsibility to provide this data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable form.

Privacy Policy Updates

I reserve the right to modify this privacy policy at any time, so please review it frequently. If I make material changes to this policy, I will publish the date of publication of the updated policy so that you are aware of the information collected, and how it is used.

Questions/Contact Information

If you have any questions about this privacy policy, please contact me, Mary Lim, at mary@marylim.co.uk, or via post at The Wishing Well, 16 St John St, Bromsgrove, Worcestershire, B61 8QY.
